I am looking for a lead generation system where a third party maintains a database of sales leads. After selling/assigning a lead to a sales agent, the third party contacts (e.g., via e-mail or telephone) the sales lead (i.e., a potential customer) to introduce him/her to the sales agent (i.e., inform the customer that sales agent X will be contacting him/her soon) prior to the sales agent actually contacting the lead.
